A Two-Day Summer Event ....a milestone

The Annual Boat Ride

The boat made it again

In what has become an annual event Hia and Boon once again departed on a lengthy and hazardous sea voyage. Despite the clear skies and ominously calm waters the voyage ended on time with the boat relatively intact. Because the meeting this year was changed to a two-day party the intrepid travelers were able to enjoy the day without worrying about the voyage home.

A Questionable Outcome

This year's contenders, Monopole from Heidsieck and Duval LeRoy were faced with an outcome similar to last year's contest. Kit and Hia picked the Monopole and, since Pancho was pouring, the two votes determined the winner. Boon voted with Pancho and, therefore, had no impact on the outcome. It is also noteworthy that after the vote and more drinking both Kit and Hia admitted that maybe they had made the wrong selection. Hopefully they were not influenced by or colluding with some foreign power. We will carefully monitor this type of activity in the future.

A Great Contest, maybe

Stuff

Fisticuffs?

He's out of his league

Apparently Kit and Hia have finally settled their differences and stopped fighting. There were no altercations detected so an alternate photo has been provided. It's doubtful that he would be a match for either Kit or Hia.

Pancho, Kit & Cubs

Poor taste

It was great having a two day meeting. More time at the beach and a lot of smiles.

Merchandise

The crowd at the beach roared

The 361 Club beach towel was introduced in honor of the annual Ocean City festivities.

No Comment

Nice thought? (onev comment)

Bill continues to be an inspiration and almost certainly will ultimately achieve sainthood for his good works with lions and Champagne. He will, however, never achieve the greatness of St. Calamity.
