

February 6, 2009

Annual Groundhog Celebration

The meeting celebrating Groundhog Day, the club's most important holiday, was hosted by Cattle Friggin Kate. As shown at the right she was well prepared, giving each of the members their own pet groundhog. The famous three-legged horse was also present for the festivities. At the far right, once again, Kit violently attacked Hia (who is apparently unaware of impending doom). The violence is becoming a tradition at Cattle's house.

Groundhog and friend

A right to the ear

The gang

Groundhogs behaving badly

See page 2 for new merchandise!!

Traditional Champagnes still struggling

First it was a Prosecco, now it is an upstart from the Bourgogne (Burgundy) region of France. The Cave de l'Aurance is a repeat winner receiving all the votes but one in defeating the more traditional Taittinger selection. Kit, once again, was the lone dissenter - obviously a Champagne purist.

The contenders

February 6, 2009

361 Club Sweatshirts are Here

Once again Poncho has come through with another great product to show off the club logo. Bill Murray, making his annual Groundhog Day visit to the festivities, proudly displays the new garment. Amazingly, Bill's appearance seems to change very little from year to year. Perhaps Champagne is what gushes from the fountain of youth.

The new goods

A satisfied customer

Judging by her expression Cattle "Friggin" Kate is unimpressed by the antics of the other members including Steve "Friggin" Guest. Meanwhile, Boon is being entertained by his new friends.

Steve "Friggin" Guest at work

Good job

The Widow joins the party

Special Report

Near the end of the meeting club members were shocked when Hia tumbled slowly from her seat. Although medical investigators were unable to determine the exact cause of the mishap they think the temporary blackout was result of the straight right thrown earlier by Kit.