

May 5, 2012

A Very Strange Cinco de Mayo

It was a most amazing evening. First, Boon actually showed up in New Jersey after years of self-imposed exile at the Delaware beaches. And, in a surprising result, the ever popular (and oh so French) “Fellatio” was defeated by a California bottled sparkling wine. Apparently, in both cases, something has upset the fundamental laws of nature. Who knows what could be next? Unfortunately Cattle “Friggin” Kate, Two “Friggin” Step and Cha “Friggin” Cha were unable to attend. However, all the club members were able to get together on Cinco de Mayo -1 at Two F. Step’s fortieth birthday party. All in all, a great weekend.

The Tasting

Shockingly, the Piper Sonoma offering scored a unanimous victory over a long time 361 Club favorite from Nicolas Feuillatte (Fellatio). Although Piper has a solid French heritage the result was still most unexpected. Perhaps we will never know if the outcome was a consequence of a lack of practice on the part of the club members or really good sparkling wines from California.

The Contenders

The Arena

Pancho did his usual great job of preparing the arena and pouring. The extra chairs are reserved for Kit and Pancho’s cubs whose pictures have been omitted out of respect for their youth and reputations.

The Host and Hostess

Kit F. Carson

Thanks to Kit and Pancho for keeping club traditions alive and a toast to their “cubs” (too young for club “frig-gin” names) who represent the future of the 361 Club tradition. What a responsibility!!

Pancho F. Villa

The Usual Antics

Although, based on the results of the tasting, the members may be a little rusty it is also clear that their behavior has not noticeably improved.

Traditional Foods

Pizza

...and Dessert Shrapnel

Cinco de Mayo

The 361 Club has a long history of over-celebrating relatively obscure holdidays. This includes Groundhog Day, the club's highest holy day. Cinco de Mayo proved to be no exception as demonstrated by the members obsession with a strange hat.

Hia "Friggin" Watha

Boon "Friggin" Doggle

Kit "Friggin" Carson

Pancho "Friggin" Villa Wardrobe malfunction

Don't forget the products

The 361 Club