

September 29, 2008

Happy 5769

With Cattle “Friggin” Kate as the hostess the club celebrated yet another holiday. This time it was Rosh Hashanah. Happy Jewish New Year 5769.

Season's Greetings

Sanity continues with an all French tasting

Two traditional Champagnes competed; the champion Pierre Peters (Pete, Pete) and Paul Goerg. In a close 3 to 2 decision (Cattle and Boon dissenting) the Paul Goerg vintage prevailed. This result is subject to revision by the other club members since Boon, due to rapidly advancing senility, is not positive that was the actual outcome. However, it does sound credible.

The Contenders

These folks drink too much.

Warmup wines

Backup Champagnes

September 29, 2008

Seen at the meeting

Appetizers

Based on her in-depth research Cattle presented appetizers traditional for the Rosh Hashanah holiday. Boon's foot was an unexpected intruder.

Kit threatening Hia with a "knuckle sandwich". The cause of the disturbance has not been reported.

Put 'em up

What a mess

The club members (minus Hia who snapped the photo) discussing whatever.

Hia can't bear to look at Poncho and his feeble attempt to emulate the traditional yarmulke.

Nice try

Once again a rich chocolate dessert; this time with decorative etchings added by Kit.

Chocolate