

November 13, 2007
Page 1

The meeting was hosted by Calamity "Friggin" Jane. To add to the festivities each of the members was encouraged to dress in the manner suggested by his or her Club "Friggin" Name. The results speak for themselves.

To challenge the current champion from Laurent-Perrier Calamity selected the previously undefeated and temporarily retired Perrier Jouet. Nothing has changed as Perrier Jouet won easily with Laurent-Perrier receiving only one vote from Hia "Friggin" Watha.

Kit, exhibiting the glazed look that often accompanies a great tasting.

Calamity, Poncho and Kit engaged in meaningful discourse.

In addition to wearing authentic Native American garb fashioned from mutilated animal skins Hia appears to be auditioning for a tooth paste ad.

Boon "Friggin" Doggle dressed as his interpretation of a boondoggle shows why he should be excluded from future costume meetings.

The usual healthy dessert.

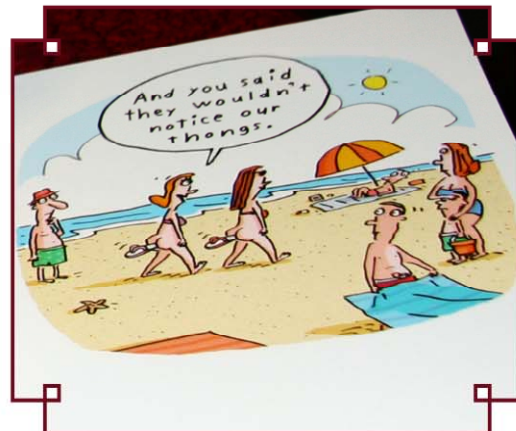

More dessert in the form of cookies and pretzels guarded by a small version of Calamity "Friggin" Jane.

Calamity's head disappears into her hat in anticipation of Hia spitting the large wad of tobacco she is apparently holding in her mouth.

Poncho, looking sporty, in a rare non-profile shot.

A tasteless greeting card that mysteriously appeared in the tasting arena.